YOUR 100 WORD SUMMARY:

I am a passionate, hard-working and energetic economic student, always ready to dedicate myself to contributing to all the students and staff in UCL. Being rather experienced in financing, I myself managed my own bank accounts and personal insurance, to make the most benefits in a certain period. I excel in math and rarely make mistakes dealing with digits and numbers. I am here running for finance committee member and I promise to work on the committee in the best interest of UCL.

YOUR MANIFESTO:

Having been studying Economics for 3 years, I have gained a good knowledge about how finance affects the operation of every single matter and how to make the best use of money. As a member of our team in the trading competition held by Merrill Lynch last year, I understand the importance of responsibility, teamwork. So far as I know, UCL Union supports over 140 societies and clubs as well as a range of activities and services. This requires a strong and united finance committee. I believe I am able to be one of them.

If elected as Finance Committee member I will:

- Cooperate with other committee members, making a happy and harmonic working environment.
- Estimate and plan carefully the annual budget, expenditure and income, according to the long and short term development of UCL Union and ensure every penny in the funds is used efficiently by enhancing the communication with presidents of societies and clubs.
- With all my care and every effort, dealing with all the financial matters such as cash flow.investments.
