

Seema Malvankar - RUMS Secretary

Even though I knew RUMS is one of the best medical schools in the country, I never comprehended the amount of fun I would have in the first term. The structure of the course is challenging and stimulating, and the location and social-life is what makes every day at university exciting. However it is the support and friendship of my peers around me that makes me more than happy to do this hard and long six year course.

I have made good-fast friends, and despite this I manage to meet someone new in our year every day. I really want to be the RUMS secretary because I am proud to be a RUMS student and would like to play a more proactive role among the student body. This role would be great for me because it will give me the chance to meet more people, and do something constructive and rewarding with my time.

More importantly I feel I would be a good RUMS secretary for you because I am a hard-working and committed team-player. I am also an approachable person and will work hard to put forward your views to make your experience at medical school more enjoyable. Below I have stated some issues I will be campaigning for.

MY INTENTIONS AS RUMS SECRETARY

1. To ensure good communication with students on all three sites, so I know what you think is being executed well and what needs improving in your education. I will voice these suggestions in meetings so all three sites can improve by learning from each other.
2. I intend to work hard with the fellow vice presidents and MS&S Officer in putting into action your important suggestions.
3. I will strive for the medical newsletter to be as attractive, interesting and relevant to RUMS students as possible. And ensure it is distributed and publicised well, so RUMS students are keen to read it and know what activities and changes are going on in their medical school.
4. I will organise so that all medical events are publicised effectively and in time so students who are interested are well informed and take part. Ways in which I will do this will be by communicating with the year representatives, and on an individual level I will make myself approachable to fellow students.
