Campaign Manifesto for the position of UCL UNION ELECTION COMMITTEE MEMBER

As a competent individual, it has always been my dream to represent myself and others at university level. Now that I am part of a world-class institution like UCL, I feel compelled to fulfil this dream. By showcasing my skills and abilities, I hope to be elected to the UCL Union so that I can contribute to and improve the organisation and the experiences of the student body.

Below is a list of some of the qualities I can bring to the table as part of the UCL Union:

- Communication: I have excellent presentation skills and can speak English, Urdu & Punjabi fluently.
- Teamwork: I have extensive experience with teamwork, and I believe my friendly disposition and interpersonal skills help me to work with others towards a common goal.
- Problem Solving: My Engineering background allows me to assess problems analytically and provide practical solutions. As the editor of my school magazine, I was confronted with a lot of situations that required problem solving and thus honed these skills.
- Ability to work under pressure: Deadlines have been a permanent feature of my academic life thus far, and I pride myself on always working within my deadlines. I have thus become accustomed to working under pressure without losing focus.

I can be contacted via email for any questions or comments that you may have: evolution_ahmad@hotmail.com

Thank you for sharing my aims and aspirations and voting for me!
